

True Presence in the Eucharist Craft Directions from Catholic Icing

This is a unique craft, but I've made it very simple for all of you. This prints out, you color by number, and then fold it back and forth like a fan. One picture is all on one side, and one picture is all on the other side, so when you move your head side to side, you can see it morph from one picture to the next.

The more you color, the more you can kind of tell what's going on in the picture.

When your picture is all colored, you cut both pieces out along the outside rectangles. One side will have a big white rectangle remaining. Line them up and attach the 2 sides together with a glue stick. When you have one large piece that is finished being colored, you're ready to start folding.

Turn your paper over so you're looking at the white side and make the first fold back. Fold exactly on the vertical line.

Turn your paper back and forth, folding like a fan on the vertical lines so it's like an accordion.

When you have them all folded, open it up a little bit, and mount it onto paper or card stock. You can mount it with hot glue, glue dots, or even tape. We used glue dots. Just place them on the folds where the accordion pieces will actually touch the card stock underneath.

True Presence in the Eucharist Craft Color Code Key

I utilized a trick that I learned from Melissa and Doug, and I made the numbers match the actual colors that you color them. This way, the numbers disappear as you color.

However, in case you print this out in black and white, here is a color code key to use:

1 = Red

2 = Orange

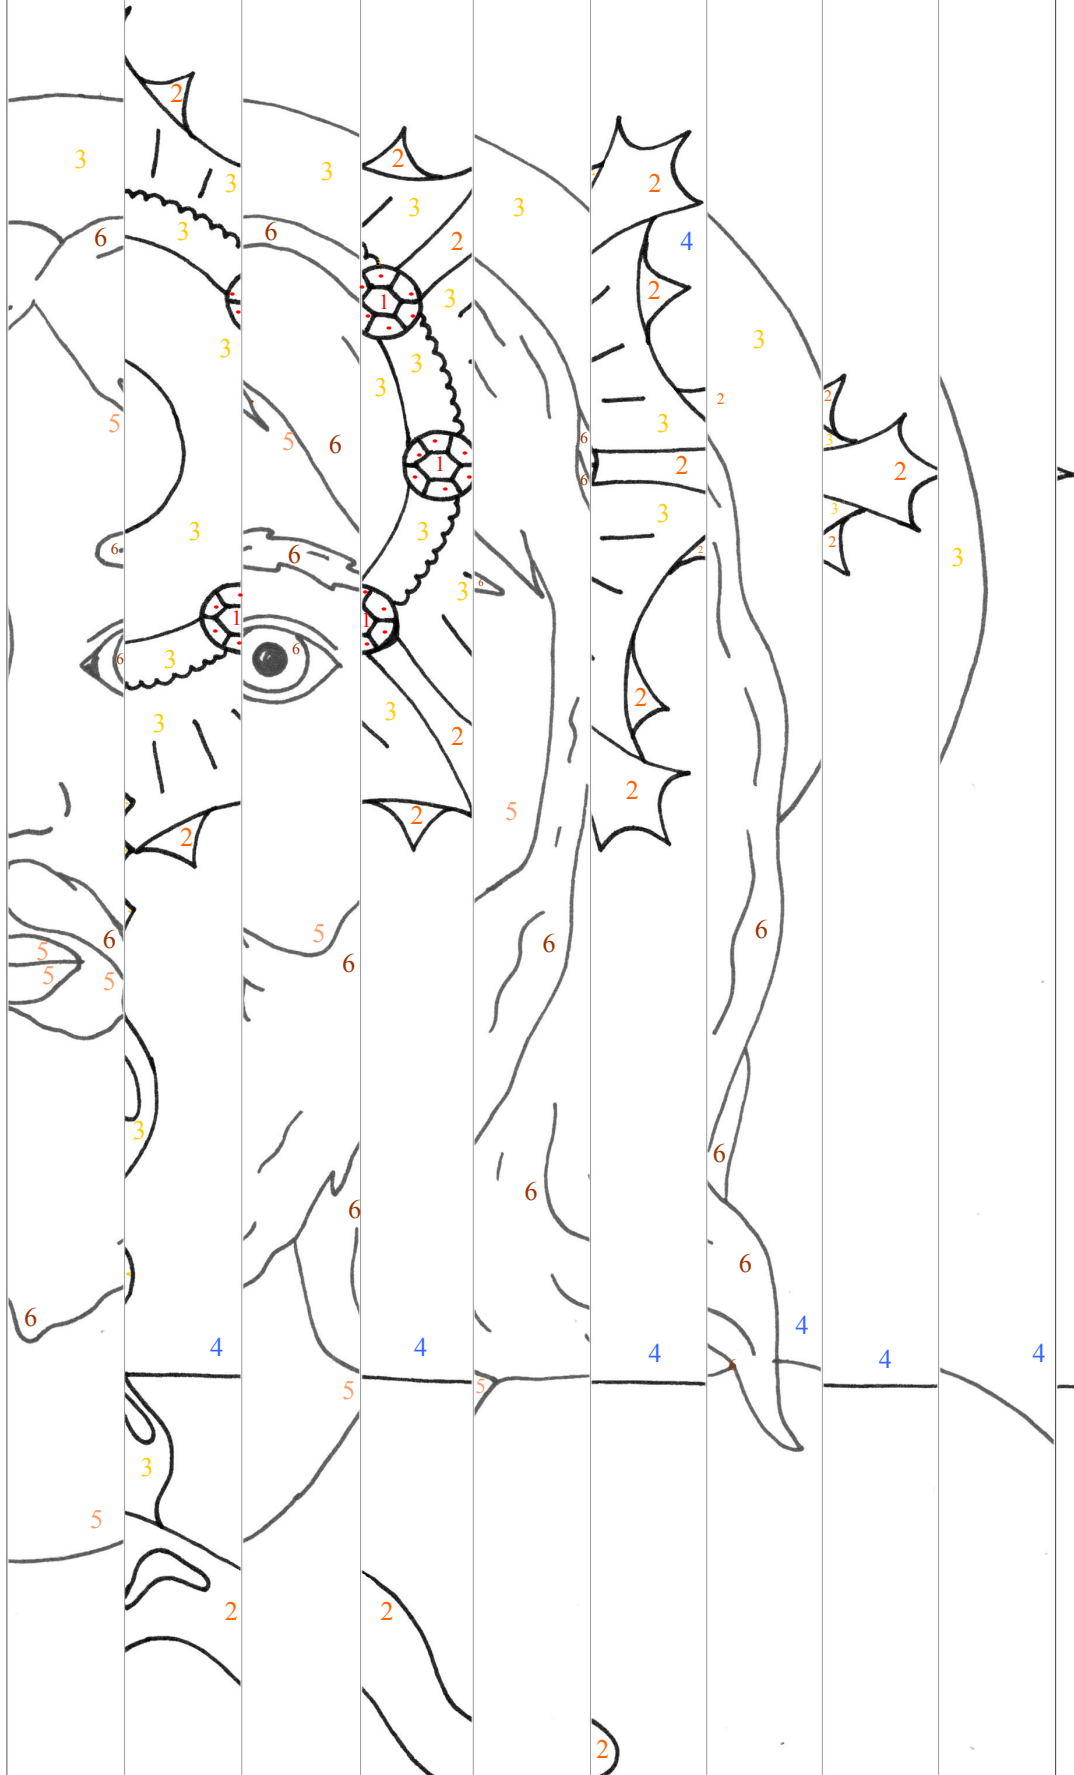

3 = Yellow

4 = Blue

5 = Peach

6 = Brown

4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4

Put glue here to attach the sides together.
